POWERFUL TUCSON HIGH TEAM ARRIVES FOR GAME WITH COYOTES THIS P. M.

VISITORS, CONFIDENT OF TURNING TABLES ON P. U. H. S. AFTER LONG STRING OF DEFEATS, WILL HAVE BIG WEIGHT ADVANTAGE IN TODAY'S BATTLE—PLAY STARTS AT 3

Local football enthusiasts are placing their faith in Coach Robinson's Coyotes to down the husky gridiron warriors from Old Pueblo this afternoon.

The Coyotes have gone through eight seasons with the state gridiron title dangling from their belts and now they are ready to make their ninth bid for the title.

Coach McCreary is bringing 15 stalwarts from Tucson and every moleskin marmar is filled with a determination to trim the Coyotes in their own lair and avenge past defeats. The boys "in the know" are losing no sleep over the outcome of today's game with the loyal Coyote supporters willing to risk the campus bench that Coach McCreary will journey home with a basket of goose eggs and the best wishes of the Phoenix fans.

Grid rumors tell of new plays and trick formations which McCreary has prepared for the Phoenix game. The "Seattle Mystery" and the "Million Dollar" plays dashed Douglas and Nogales when Tucson toured the border district, but the Coyotes will meet McCreary with a number of surprises that should keep the pigskin in the visitor's territory for a few touchdowns.

Heard proved himself a wonder at punting and the Coyote right end will be relied upon to use his toe to protect Phoenix territory. Heard has been punting for 50 and 55 yards in practice and should come close to this distance in this afternoon's game. The Coyotes have been hitting the tackling dummy hard and the old charging sled was repaired and put to a hard test during the last week.

Coach Robinson realizes his team will be forced to win today's game to lay claim to the state championship as Bisbee took Tucson for a trimming last week. If Phoenix loses to Tucson today the Coyotes will be out of the championship running.

Tucson Has Weight Advantage

The Tucson squad, which arrived in town yesterday was out at an early hour this morning and went through signal practice on the Riverside field. They have a very heavy team and no doubt outweigh the Coyotes five pounds to the man. The backfield is considered one of the fastest known to prep schools in this state, and their quarterback has been drilled in the art of field generalship.

McCreary will have his chance today to get at one object which has been his desire for many moons, and that is to tang with the Phoenix high wonder team. Tucson is expecting to see the desert rats come home with victory and intend that the score be well up in numbers.

Robinson's hopes are well on hand, and in his backfield will be found the same kind of pigskin tossers that were so well known last season when Ciudad and Ross were featured as stars. Millage, playing the same position as he did last season, is even in better trim than before for he can now heave a forward pass for a distance of 45 yards with very little effort.

The Coyotes stone wall line is one that takes a great deal of push to get through, and it will be to Tucson's loss to try and gain yards on line plunges. Offensive and defensive playing by the local squad will be the cause of many spectacular plays, and Phoenix hopes rely on the aerial style of gaining yardage.

For the first time in years the Tucson high team has been built around stars and the southern city's halfbacks are going to show real class along with the sturdy little general at quarter. It will be a great day for Arizona football fans when the final results of today's game are flashed over the state, as there are thousands interested in the runners' up for state championship, although not present in person. However, one of the largest crowds that has ever attended a football classic in the Salt river valley is expected to be present at Riverside park this afternoon when Jerry Abbott, popular coast football official acts as referee.

ere, blow the whistle for the first kickoff at 3 p.m. sharp, which will start one of the most interesting football tilts held in the state so far this season.

In order to get the thousands of fans to Riverside park, special bus service will be featured to and from the grounds, leaving the Union Auto Stage depot every five minutes.

Football officials announced last night after inspecting the field that it was in perfect shape, and everything is now in readiness for the big game.

Chicago Meets Colorado Team

This Afternoon

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—While Western Conference football followers will have opportunity to see their favorite teams in action tomorrow—virtually every eleven playing—there are few games expected to figure in the championship race.

To a majority of the sports analysts, prospective victory seems fairly easy to pick contests, except one—that being Michigan and Illinois at Urbana, and this fracas is not considered of titular importance.

Chicago, conqueror of Princeton, faces another inter-sectional game, this time with the Colorado University. The game will be played here.

Minnesota and Wisconsin meet at Madison, Wis., in their traditional clash which is the most important on the schedule to the followers of the two eleven. Minnesota is not expected to show more than average ability.

Indiana goes outside the conference to play Notre Dame, a minor league takes on Depauw, and North college.

Sonora Lifts All Restrictions On Liquor Business

Texas Aggies Spring Surprise And Defeat Oklahoma Crew 23-7

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Oct. 28.—The Texas Aggies surprised the Oklahoma Aggies and gridiron followers here today by defeating the visitors, 23 to 7. In the first three minutes of play, on a forward pass, Weaver to Hashbrook, Oklahoma, made its only score. Texas scored in the first, second and third periods.

In the second quarter, Morris, quarterback, Texas, made a place-kick from the 20 yard line. The rest of the scores were on the touchdowns. Texas made ten first down against three for Oklahoma.

ALHAMBRA SCHOOL BUDGET CUT $4,000

The Alhambra school, one of the best rural schools in the valley, through the careful directorship of H. W. Fountain, president of the board; Phil Ensign, clerk, and J. S. Elliott, member, has been able to reduce its budget over $4,000 below that of last year. The expenses of that district are among the lowest in the county and have been no sacrifice of efficiency.

A member of the board, speaking of this matter, said: "Any further reduction would have been a decided detriment to the school and we do not believe that our district is in favor of saving a few dollars at the expense of the education of our children. The members of the board feel that they are entitled to the support of the patrons of the school and the reduction of Mr. Fountain's administration. He pledges himself to work for the best interests of the district at large. I believe that the district is strong for Mr. Fountain and his past work and we are sure that the voters will show their appreciation by his efforts to re-electing him by the biggest majority ever given a trustee in the Alhambra district."

BARNES FORCED TO PLAY MASTER GOLF TO DEFEAT WOMAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—A superwoman of the links forced a superman golfer to unwanted heights to surpass her today at the Pelham Country club.

James Barnes, national open champion, defeated Miss Cecil Leitch, woman champion of Great Britain, France and Canada, by three and one in an exhibition match in which he granted her six bisques. To overcome this handicap he played such remarkable golf that he made the 6412 yard course in 68, six strokes under par, and four under the previous course record set by himself. Miss Leitch had a medal score of 82, the best a woman had ever done on the course, three strokes under the card that won the qualifying medal in the recent women's national championship.

Miss Leitch played Barnes in the afternoon after defeating Miss Alexia Stirling, former national champion, by two-up. The English woman's card in the morning was six strokes higher than her record in the afternoon.

Barnes would have won by six and four in a non-handicap match, but the six bisque handicap, a form of play in which Miss Leitch frequently engages with professionals, was a great obstacle for him to overcome. It meant that Miss Leitch could elect at any green, after the putts were sunk, to subtract from her strokes for the hole one or on any of the strokes permitted her for the match. She usually took a bisque to halve holes which Barnes had won.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Sailor Friedman of Chicago, tonight defeated Ernie Rice, lightweight champion, in the seventh round of a scheduled 15 round bout in Madison Square Garden when Rice's seconds tossed a towel into the ring.

KOTSONAROS IS GIVEN DECISION OVER SAUER IN 1 HOUR, 38 MIN.

BY ED HARRINGTON

There are wrestling matches and wrestling matches, but Pete Sauer and George Kotsonaros exceeded the limit at the Capital City arena last night in an exhibition of grappling that is seldom equalled in a roped arena and will be hard to duplicate to the satisfaction of Phoenix fans.

Pete Sauer, the Phoenix favorite, lost the match—he was forced to forfeit the decision to Kotsonaros after 1 hour and 38 minutes that called for 15 minutes in every second. Pete worked fully 15 minutes with an injured arm and refused to give in till forced to submit from the pain in the injured member.

Sauer's supporters at the ringside pleaded with him to give up but Pete refused to listen even to the plea of Referee Erhardt to forfeit the match. He displayed a gameness that is deserving of commendation and in his defeat he won the admiration of every wrestling fan in the arena. After the bout Kotsonaros voiced his endorsement of Sauer in a few words in which he stated that Sauer is the toughest opponent he has ever wrestled—and Kotsonaros has wrestled all the big ones.

Up to the time that Pete injured his arm in a quick fall to the mat there was little to choose. Both men broke every known wrestling hold, with Pete succeeding in pinning Kotsonaros with two toe holds that looked like curtains. Pete was the aggressor in the early stages of the match and had George in a bad way with the crafty Greek working out of head locks, body scissors, toe holds and arm locks.

For speed there was nothing to choose. Kotsonaros was on his feet in a twinkling after a scrimmage, equally as fast as Sauer. Pete played for a head lock and arm lock and only two times during the evening was his famous toe hold brought into use. At one time both men were entangled in a grapevine and both fastened deadly toe holds at the same time for a test of endurance. George broke first and worked out of the hole with both wrestlers regaining their feet in a flash.

The attendance at the match was not what it deserved. Needless to say if the fans realized what was in store for them the arena would have been taxed to the bleachers. Not a dissatisfied fan left the arena after the main bout, but words of praise were heard on every side for the ability of Kotsonaros and Sauer. Their quickness, physical strength and headwork in tight places was marvellous. The wrestling fan is hard to please, but he went away satisfied that he received his money's worth last night.

In the semi-final Young Fields and Marionette Husk wrestled 10 minutes to a draw. The men were evenly matched and displayed considerable skill in the art of setting traps. Fields had a little edge on Husk for aggressiveness and in a longer match might have been returned the victor. In the curtain raiser, Eddie was given the decision over Young Reynolds in 10 minutes of wrestling. The lads were not versed in the game, but were willing and the fans were pleased. Reynolds won the first fall in 1 minute and 30 seconds, when Fields gave up with a face and arm lock.

Joe Brown and Young Slate started a four-round boxing bout that terminated when Brown floored Slate three times and Referee Leo Kelly stopped the bout to save Slate from punishment.

The chill night air kept many fans away from the arena and those who attended shivered through to the finish. While the main bout of interest progressed the wrestlers furnished enough action to make the fans forget they were cold and not a fan left the arena, but Pete was forced to forfeit the bout.

Sauer will probably be out of the game for several weeks, as it was reported that his right arm was broken. After he injured his arm he was handicapped and with his "pup" gone.

Kotsonaros kept right on top of him to the decision.

So long as the mat artists give the fans bouts that come close to last night's for action and real work there will be little complaint against the game in Phoenix. There was no stalling from the time the men started to the finish; it was an exhibition of physical skill and quick thinking that calls for nothing but praise.

Kotsonaros is the hardest man Sauer has yet faced. He is a top notcher in the game as he proved last night.

TEAMS FROM SOUTH INVADE EAST FOR BIG GAMES OF DAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Three of the leading college eleven of the south figure prominently in the afternoon's gridiron program. Center College of Danville, Ky., again invades the Harvard stadium; the University of Virginia of Charlottesville, S. C., faces Princeton in the Palmer Memorial stadium, and the widely heralded Georgia Tech eleven of Atlanta, Ga., plays Pennsylvania state's powerful combination at the Polo grounds here.

These contests, do not however, exhaust the football possibilities of the day, for there are in addition a number of games in which East meets East in what promises to be thrilling battles for sectional supremacy. Cornell and Dartmouth line up at Ithaca with records unmarred by defeat; Pittsburg, fresh from its sensational victory over Syracuse, plays Lincoln with the possibility of a tie; and Yale, with its undefeated record, meets Harvard at New Haven. There are, in addition, a host of other contests of scarcely lesser interest.

Chief attention will be focused upon the playing of the southern teams all known to be high class and effective eleven, well versed in the modern fundamentals and fruits of the autumn sport.

The impression made upon both Harvard participants and spectators by Centre is attested by the fact that every one of the 4,000 seats in the stadium has been sold for tomorrow's game.

The Danville collegians appear for the second time in two years in Cambridge with a straight record of victories for the season. In their four games to date they have won and won impressively, but have prevented opponents from crossing the goal line. The southerners will present their strongest line-up with the able exception of Centre's Whitnell, who is ineligible because of scholastic difficulties.

Harvard, winner last year, 31 to 14, will offer what is considered to be rather a weak team, due to the injuries of several stars in the Pennsylvania State game, a week ago and the need of guarding others for the crucial struggle with Princeton a week hence.

A battle royal is certain to develop when Georgia Tech grapples with Pennsylvania State of the turf recently scarred by the spikes of the world series baseball players. The calibre of the Atlanta eleven ranks with that of any team in the country.

Of the so-called big three, Yale appears to have the easiest task of the day in meeting Brown.

In the other most important contests of the day, Pittsburg is favored to defeat Pennsylvania and both the army and navy have easy games against Susquehanna and Bethany.

Earl McArthur Wins 20 Round Decision Over A.E.F. Champ

(Republican A. P. Leased Wire)

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Oct. 28.—Earl McArthur of Sioux City was awarded the referee's decision over "Babe" Asher, A. E. F. national champion, at the end of the 20-round bout here last night. The go was the most grueling ring battle ever fought here. McArthur's victory was a decisive one, the best saving the soldier batter on several occasions. Asher was floored in the seventh, eighth, sixteenth and eighteenth rounds. He was on the floor being counted out when the bell ended the eighth and sixteenth rounds. Asher weighed 120 pounds and McArthur 116½.

St. Paul's cathedral in London took 35 years to build.
